

PA Academy of Ophthalmology

Multidisciplinary Approaches to the Diagnosis and Treatment of Uveitis for the Comprehensive and Specialty Ophthalmologist

Saturday, May 15, 2021
10AM - 2PM EST

This program is designed to update physicians, including comprehensive and subspecialty ophthalmologist, on the findings, diagnostic evaluation, and treatments of uveitis including local steroid injections and implants and systemic immunosuppression. This conference will bring together experts in uveitis in a virtual format to discuss approaches to various ocular inflammatory conditions including scleritis, anterior, intermediate, and posterior uveitis, and pediatric uveitis.

AGENDA

Chantel Park, MD (Rheumatologist) - Systemic Immunosuppression in Uveitis Patients: Choosing and managing the correct agent

Sumit Sharma, MD Local Steroid Therapy in Uveitis

Stefanie Davidson, MD Pediatric Uveitis

Chantel Park, MD Systemic Manifestations of Uveitis Patients

David Chu, MD Scleritis: Evaluation and Treatment

Aditya Kanesa, MD Herpetic Uveitis

Nisha Acharya, MD Anterior Uveitis: Approach to Evaluation & Treatment

Steve Yeh, MD Intermediate Uveitis: Approach to Evaluation & Treatment, Vogt-Koyanagi-Harada Syndrome, Birdshot Retinochoroidopathy

Q&A**

Meghan Berkenstock, MD Behcet's Disease

Marie-Helene Errera, MD Retinal Vasculitis, APMPE/Serpiginous Choroidopathy, Multifocal Choroiditis and Panuveitis/Punctate, Inner Choroidopathy

Meghan Berkenstock, MD Drug-induced Uveitis

Cecilia Lee, MD Perioperative Management of Uveitis Patients

This free event is open to all ophthalmologists and residents.

REGISTER

This event is sponsored in part by an educational grant for AbbVie.

We would like to thank our Gold Sponsor, EyePoint Pharmaceuticals and our Bronze Sponsor, Alcon.